Passingford

Thanks to those of you that came to help today. Sorry that I missed some of you this afternoon but after 30 hours awake I finally realized that I am nearing 70 and can not do what I used to do., I came home at 2 showered and sat on the bed the next I knew it was after 4 o'clock.

The position is that we managed to move some Crucians to Paradise along with Tench and Carp.

However there were still rather sadly deaths.

While the aerators were on the fish were on the top gasping, we decide that whilst there was lots of air being introduced they were also stirring up the foul water, with this in mind we stopped the motors and after an hour the fish in the main went down not happy but no longer heads up gasping all the time.

A net [thanks to the lads that sorted that] was pulled through the lake this afternoon after I left but with the lilies making it hard only a few large dead carp were netted.

We have decided to give it 24hrs and reassess the position. I think it will be to leave alone and see what happens with hopefully the foul water settling down into the base.

After a little while we will discuss the way forward with the EA who have been very helpful with the aerators and are supportive of us as a club.

A couple more hours kip for me now and then [7.30pm] I will be back on line or by the phone for any members, but I don't think there will be any more info by then.
