Old river Lea

This little river gets very weedy in the summer and several swims can not be fished however now as the weed dies down good old fashioned long range trotting comes into its own to find the fish. Chub on the bends under undercut banks, Perch near tree cover and Dace in the faster flows. Quite a spread of small Jacks. All species in the pool below the weir.

Turnford

Railway and Boot have both fished well on and off this season, the weather seems to have been responsible for the varied results.

Piking will now take a front seat on the pits as the cold nights set in.

We are looking for bailiffs for this venue, if you feel you can help out please give me a ring for more details.

Fishers Green

With the rains over the last few days the river will have had a bit of a flush out and the winter frosts on the way will see off the weed growth. When the river is clear this will push the fish into deeper water looking for the cover of overhanging trees and bushes, when there is flood water and colour then the fish will venture out keeping out of too strong a current in search of food.
